

ANSWER KEY — US History — Foundations Mini-Quiz

CC0 1.0 synthetic fixture · Kelyra QA · not real student work

Subject: history · 8 items

Read the passage:

In a fictional town called Maple Bend, residents wrote a short charter in 1785. The charter said leaders must listen to townsfolk before raising taxes, and that every free adult could speak at the monthly meeting. Historians use Maple Bend as a classroom model of early self-government — not a real founding document.

Official answers

1. 1785
2. listen to townsfolk
3. every free adult
4. no
5. self-government
6. 1776
7. plan / framework
8. They show how communities practiced self-rule and rights.